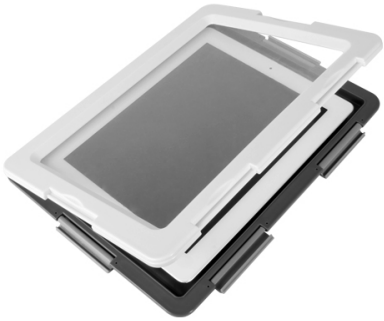
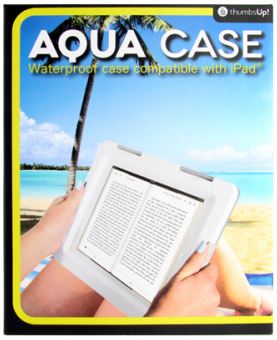
Aqua Case for iPad

AQUIPACAS





This form-fitting waterproof case safeguards your precious iPad from the elements!

If you hate to be parted from your iPad but deem it too precious for certain scenarios – think lounging in the bath while browsing the newspapers online, propping it up in the kitchen so you can work through a messy recipe you found on the web, or using it to watch movies while chilling out on a sandy beach – this slim-line protective case is the solution!

As well as protecting your tablet from water, the Aqua iPad Case also guards against sand, dust and snow, so you're pretty much covered for all atmosphere-based eventualities! What's more, the case's touch-sensitive skin means that your device is still fully functional when it's sealed away – perfect for browsing or chatting to your friends on Skype while relaxing by the pool.... Featuring a transparent Perspex shell framed by a rubber seal and a touch-sensitive transparent skin, consider this durable, protective holder your iPad's guardian angel!

- Waterproof, protective and slim form-fitting design
- Hinged case with touch-sensitive skin and a durable rubber seal
- Guaranteed waterproof to depths of 1metre (if used correctly by the customer)
- Touch screen works through waterproof case (as water is conductive, the touchscreen will not work when under water)
- Allows for underwater video (start recording before the case is submerged)
- Please note: This case is compatible with the iPad 2 & 3
